Introduction Where Opportunity Meets Talent

The TriMetrix® HD Coaching Report was designed to increase the understanding of an individual's talents. The report provides insight to four distinct areas: behaviors, driving forces, acumen and competencies. Understanding strengths and weaknesses in each of the four areas will lead to personal and professional development and a higher level of satisfaction.

The following is an in-depth look at your personal talents in the four main sections:

Behaviors

This section of the report is designed to help you attain a greater knowledge of yourself as well as others. The ability to interact effectively with people may be the difference between success and failure in your work and personal life. Effective interaction starts with an accurate perception of oneself.

Driving Forces

This section of the report provides information on the why of your actions, which with application and coaching, can tremendously impact your valuing of life. Once you know the motivations that drive your actions, you will immediately be able to understand the causes of conflict.

Integrating Behaviors And Driving Forces

This section of the report will help you blend the how and the why of your actions. Once you can understand how your behaviors and driving forces blend together, your performance will be enhanced and you will experience an increase in satisfaction.

Acumen Indicators

This section of the report will help you truly understand how you analyze and interpret your experiences. Your acumen, keenness and depth of perception or discernment, is directly related to your level of performance.

Competencies

This section presents 25 key competencies and ranks them from top to bottom, defining your major strengths. The skills at the top highlight well-developed capabilities and reveal where you are naturally most effective in focusing your time.

Introduction Behaviors Section

Behavioral research suggests that the most effective people are those who understand themselves, both their strengths and weaknesses, so they can develop strategies to meet the demands of their environment.

A person's behavior is a necessary and integral part of who they are. In other words, much of our behavior comes from "nature" (inherent), and much comes from "nurture" (our upbringing). It is the universal language of "how we act," or our observable human behavior.

In this report we are measuring four dimensions of normal behavior. They are:

- How you respond to problems and challenges.
- How you influence others to your point of view.
- How you respond to the pace of the environment.
- How you respond to rules and procedures set by others.

This report analyzes behavioral style; that is, a person's manner of doing things. Is the report 100% true? Yes, no and maybe. We are only measuring behavior. We only report statements from areas of behavior in which tendencies are shown. To improve accuracy, feel free to make notes or edit the report regarding any statement from the report that may or may not apply, but only after checking with friends or colleagues to see if they agree.

*"All people exhibit all four behavioral factors in varying degrees of intensity."
—W.M. Marston*

General Characteristics

Based on Jon's responses, the report has selected general statements to provide a broad understanding of his work style. These statements identify the basic natural behavior that he brings to the job. That is, if left on his own, these statements identify HOW HE WOULD CHOOSE TO DO THE JOB. Use the general characteristics to gain a better understanding of Jon's natural behavior.

Jon is forward-looking, aggressive and competitive. His vision for results is one of his positive strengths. He is a goal-oriented individual who believes in harnessing people to help him achieve his goals. He needs people with other strengths on his team. He can be successful at many things, not because of versatility but rather because of his determination to win. He embraces visions not always seen by others. Jon's creative mind allows him to see the "big picture." Jon may be so self-confident that others see him as arrogant. This confidence may be something others wish they had. Some may view him as being stubborn and opinionated. He views it as the price you must pay for success. He may try to "explain" his stubbornness in positive terms. He appreciates others who are team players and will reward those who are loyal. He has high ego strengths and may be viewed by some as egotistical. Jon is an aggressive individual who wins through hard work and persistence; that is, he will come up with a good idea and follow through. He displays a high energy factor and is optimistic about the results he can achieve. The word "can't" is not in his vocabulary.

Jon is decisive and prefers to work for a decisive manager. He can experience stress if his manager does not possess similar traits. He has the unique ability of tackling tough problems and following them through to a satisfactory conclusion. Logic and people who have the facts and data to support this logic influence him. He admires the patience required to gather facts and data. He is a good problem solver and troubleshooter, always seeking new ways to solve old problems. Sometimes he becomes emotionally involved in the decision-making process. He prefers authority equal to his responsibility. Sometimes he may be so opinionated about a particular problem that he has difficulty letting others participate in the process. Many people see his decisions as high-risk decisions. However, after the decision is made, he tends to work hard for a successful outcome.

General Characteristics Continued

Jon has the ability to ask the right questions and destroy a shallow idea. Some people may feel these questions are a personal attack upon their integrity; however, this is just his way of getting the appropriate facts. He likes people who present their case effectively. When they do, he can then make a quicker assessment or decision. He may lose interest in what others are saying if they ramble or don't speak to the point. His active mind is already moving ahead. He likes people who give him options as compared to their opinions. The options may help him make decisions, and he values his own opinion over that of others! Jon is influenced by people who communicate with a logical presentation of the facts, impressed by the apparent efficiency involved. He tends to influence people by being direct, friendly and results-oriented. He challenges people who volunteer their opinions. He may sometimes mask his feelings in friendly terms. If pressured, Jon's true feelings may emerge.

Value to the Organization

This section of the report identifies the specific talents and behavior Jon brings to the job. By looking at these statements, one can identify his role in the organization. The organization can then develop a system to capitalize on his particular value and make him an integral part of the team.

- Has the confidence to do the difficult assignments.
- Forward-looking and future-oriented.
- Accomplishes goals through people.
- Competitive.
- Tenacious.
- Innovative.
- Thinks big.
- Usually makes decisions with the bottom line in mind.
- Challenge-oriented.

Checklist for Communicating

Most people are aware of and sensitive to the ways with which they prefer to be communicated. Many people find this section to be extremely accurate and important for enhanced interpersonal communication. This page provides other people with a list of things to DO when communicating with Jon. Read each statement and identify the 3 or 4 statements which are most important to him. We recommend highlighting the most important "DO's" and provide a listing to those who communicate with Jon most frequently.

Ways to Communicate

- Define the problem in writing.
- Clarify any parameters in writing.
- Support and maintain an environment where he can be efficient.
- Look for his oversights.
- Provide facts and figures about probability of success, or effectiveness of options.
- Provide solutions--not opinions.
- Use a motivating approach, when appropriate.
- Provide "yes" or "no" answers--not maybe.
- Be clear, specific, brief and to the point.
- Use a balanced, objective and emotional approach.
- Appeal to the benefits he will receive.
- Expect him to return to fight another day when he has received a "no" answer.
- Stick to business--let him decide if he wants to talk socially.

Checklist for Communicating Continued

This section of the report is a list of things NOT to do while communicating with Jon. Review each statement with Jon and identify those methods of communication that result in frustration or reduced performance. By sharing this information, both parties can negotiate a communication system that is mutually agreeable.

Ways NOT to Communicate

- Reinforce agreement with "I'm with you."
- Take credit for his accomplishments.
- Muffle or overcontrol.
- Be paternalistic.
- Direct or order.
- Try to build personal relationships.
- Let disagreement reflect on him personally.
- Come with a ready-made decision, or make it for him.
- Forget or lose things, be disorganized or messy, confuse or distract his mind from business.
- Ramble on, or waste his time.
- Let him overpower you with verbiage.
- Be redundant.
- Ask rhetorical questions, or useless ones.

Communication Tips

This section provides suggestions on methods which will improve Jon's communications with others. The tips include a brief description of typical people with whom he may interact. By adapting to the communication style desired by other people, Jon will become more effective in his communications with them. He may have to practice some flexibility in varying his communication style with others who may be different from himself. This flexibility and the ability to interpret the needs of others is the mark of a superior communicator.

When communicating with a person who is dependent, neat, conservative, perfectionist, careful and compliant:

- Prepare your "case" in advance.
- Stick to business.
- Be accurate and realistic.

Factors that will create tension or dissatisfaction:

- Being giddy, casual, informal, loud.
- Pushing too hard or being unrealistic with deadlines.
- Being disorganized or messy.

When communicating with a person who is ambitious, forceful, decisive, strong-willed, independent and goal-oriented:

- Be clear, specific, brief and to the point.
- Stick to business.
- Be prepared with support material in a well-organized "package."

Factors that will create tension or dissatisfaction:

- Talking about things that are not relevant to the issue.
- Leaving loopholes or cloudy issues.
- Appearing disorganized.

When communicating with a person who is patient, predictable, reliable, steady, relaxed and modest:

- Begin with a personal comment--break the ice.
- Present your case softly, nonthreateningly.
- Ask "how?" questions to draw their opinions.

Factors that will create tension or dissatisfaction:

- Rushing headlong into business.
- Being domineering or demanding.
- Forcing them to respond quickly to your objectives.

When communicating with a person who is magnetic, enthusiastic, friendly, demonstrative and political:

- Provide a warm and friendly environment.
- Don't deal with a lot of details (put them in writing).
- Ask "feeling" questions to draw their opinions or comments.

Factors that will create tension or dissatisfaction:

- Being curt, cold or tight-lipped.
- Controlling the conversation.
- Driving on facts and figures, alternatives, abstractions.

Perceptions

See Yourself as Others See You

A person's behavior and feelings may be quickly telegraphed to others. This section provides additional information on Jon's self-perception and how, under certain conditions, others may perceive his behavior. Understanding this section will empower Jon to project the image that will allow him to control the situation.

Self-Perception

Jon usually sees himself as being:

- Pioneering
- Assertive
- Competitive
- Confident
- Positive
- Winner

Others' Perception - Moderate

Under moderate pressure, tension, stress or fatigue, others may see him as being:

- Demanding
- Nervy
- Egotistical
- Aggressive

Others' Perception - Extreme

Under extreme pressure, stress or fatigue, others may see him as being:

- Abrasive
- Controlling
- Arbitrary
- Opinionated

The Absence of a Behavioral Factor

The absence of a behavioral factor may provide insight into situations or environments that may cause tension or stress. Based on research, we are able to identify situations that should be avoided or minimized in a person's day-to-day environment. By understanding the contribution of a low behavioral style, we are able to better articulate a person's talents and create environments where people can be more effective.

Situations and circumstances to avoid or aspects needed within the environment in order to minimize behavioral stress.

- Avoid situations that require strict adherence to standards without any flexibility.
- Avoid work environments requiring constant diplomacy, as they may cause stress.
- Avoid situations where the lack of fear is the driving force versus the return for the organization.

Understanding that the need to adapt is unavoidable at times, below are tips for adapting to those with C above the energy line and/or tips for seeking environments that will be conducive to the low C.

- The lack of caution exhibited may lead to unnecessary high-risk decisions being made.
- The desire to be seen as a unique person may detract from the ideal outcome.
- Stress is demonstrated through body language; be sure to send the same message verbally and physically.

Peaceful	Matter-of-Fact	Flexible	Arbitrary
Unobtrusive	Incisive	Impulsive	Unbending

Natural and Adapted Style

Jon's natural style of dealing with problems, people, pace of events and procedures may not always fit what the environment needs. This section will provide valuable information related to stress and the pressure to adapt to the environment.

Problems - Challenges

Natural

Jon is ambitious in his approach to problem solving, displaying a strong will and a need to win against all obstacles. Jon has a tendency to make decisions with little or no hesitation.

Adapted

Jon sees no need to change his approach to solving problems or dealing with challenges in his present environment.

People - Contacts

Natural

Jon is sociable and optimistic. He is able to use an emotional appeal to convince others of a certain direction. He likes to be on a team and may be the spokesman for the team. He will trust others and likes a positive environment in which to relate.

Adapted

Jon sees no need to change his approach to influencing others to his way of thinking. He sees his natural style to be what the environment is calling for.

Pace - Consistency

Natural

Jon is deliberate and steady. He is willing to change, if the new direction is meaningful and consistent with the past. He will resist change for change's sake.

Adapted

Jon sees his natural activity style to be just what the environment needs. What you see is what you get for activity level and consistency. Sometimes he would like the world to slow down.

Procedures - Constraints

Natural

Jon is independent by nature and feels comfortable in situations where the constraints are few and far between. He will follow rules as long as he feels that the rules are his. He has a tendency to rebel from rules set by others and wants input into any constraints.

Adapted

Jon shows little discomfort when comparing his basic (natural) style to his response to the environment (adapted) style. The difference is not significant and Jon sees little or no need to change his response to the environment.

Adapted Style      Natural Style

Adapted Style

Jon sees his present work environment requiring him to exhibit the behavior listed on this page. If the following statements DO NOT sound job related, explore the reasons why he is adapting this behavior.

- A competitive environment, combined with a high degree of people skills.
- Responding well to challenges: "You say I can't do it? Just watch me!"
- Using a direct, forthright and honest approach in his communications.
- Dedicated to "going it alone" when necessary.
- Skillful use of vocabulary for persuasive situations.
- A good support team to handle paperwork.
- Persistence in job completion.
- Flaunting independence.
- Firm commitment to accomplishments.
- Being independent and innovative.
- Being creative and unconventional in making a point.
- Anticipating and solving problems.
- Willing to take risks when others may be hesitant.

Time Wasters

This section of your report is designed to identify time wasters that may impact your overall time use effectiveness. Possible causes and solutions will serve as a basis for creating an effective plan for maximizing your use of TIME and increasing your PERFORMANCE.

Firefighting

Firefighting is often defined as being pulled away from priority tasks to answer questions, offer solutions, delegate or solve problem-related minor issues. These issues usually "flare up" quickly and are "put out" quickly.

Possible Causes:

- Desire to solve problems quickly and sometimes without adequate information
- Lack of delegation
- Lack of standard operating procedures
- Poor/wrong priorities
- Failure to fit intensity to the situation

Possible Solutions:

- Establish a plan
- Create operational procedures for tasks and known problems
- Establish a "management by objectives" approach

Poor Delegation

Poor delegation usually means the inability to discriminate between tasks needing your time and attention, and those others are capable of accomplishing.

Possible Causes:

- Do not want to give up control
- Do not trust the abilities of others
- Do not understand the abilities of others
- Fear the talents of others
- Do not want to overload others

Time Wasters Continued

Possible Solutions:

- Train and mentor others
- Develop a support team
- Give people the opportunity to help
- Recognize the time spent training others on routine tasks will result in gained cumulative time for higher priority tasks

Crisis Management

Crisis Management is defined as a management style that is consistently driven by uncontrolled external issues as the preferred method of managing. This style allows crises to precipitate rather than anticipating them and being pro-active.

Possible Causes:

- Lack planning
- Place unrealistic time requirements on people and tasks
- Always looking for problems to solve

Possible Solutions:

- Have a well defined operational plan
- Target key individuals to handle specific problems
- Ask for recommendations from key people
- Delegate authority and responsibility when possible

Areas for Improvement

In this area is a listing of possible limitations without regard to a specific job. Review with Jon and cross out those limitations that do not apply. Highlight 1 to 3 limitations that are hindering his performance and develop an action plan to eliminate or reduce this hindrance.

Jon has a tendency to:

- Dislike routine work or routine people--unless he sees the need to further his goals.
- Overstep authority and prerogatives--will override others.
- Blame, deny and defend his position--even if it is not needed.
- Have trouble delegating--can't wait, so does it himself.
- Make "off the cuff" remarks that are often seen as personal prods.
- Set standards for himself and others so high that impossibility of the situation is common place.

The Success Insights® Wheel

The Success Insights® Wheel is a powerful tool popularized in Europe. In addition to the text you have received about your behavioral style, the Wheel adds a visual representation that allows you to:

- View your natural behavioral style (circle).
- View your adapted behavioral style (star).
- Note the degree you are adapting your behavior.
- If you filled out the Work Environment Analysis, view the relationship of your behavior to your job.

Notice on the next page that your Natural style (circle) and your Adapted style (star) are plotted on the Wheel. If they are plotted in different boxes, then you are adapting your behavior. The further the two plotting points are from each other, the more you are adapting your behavior.

If you are part of a group or team who also took the behavioral assessment, it would be advantageous to get together, using each person's Wheel, and make a master Wheel that contains each person's Natural and Adapted style. This allows you to quickly see where conflict can occur. You will also be able to identify where communication, understanding and appreciation can be increased.

Understanding Your Driving Forces

Eduard Spranger first defined six primary types or categories to define human motivation and drive. These six types are Theoretical, Utilitarian, Aesthetic, Social, Individualistic and Traditional.

With TTISI's additional insights into Spranger's original work, the 12 Driving Forces® came to life. The 12 Driving Forces® are established by looking at each motivator on a continuum and describing both ends. All of the twelve descriptors are based on six keywords, one for each continuum. The six keywords are Knowledge, Utility, Surroundings, Others, Power and Methodologies.

You will learn how to explain, clarify and amplify some of the driving forces in your life. This report will empower you to build on your unique strengths, which you bring to work and life. You will learn how your passions from 12 Driving Forces® frame your perspectives and provide the most accurate understanding of you as a unique person.

Please pay careful attention to your top four driving forces, as they highlight what most powerfully moves you to action. As you examine the next tier of four driving forces, you'll recognize they may have strong pull for you, but only in certain situations. Finally, when reviewing the bottom four driving forces, you will identify your varying levels of indifference or total avoidance.

Once you have reviewed this report you will have a better grasp of one of the key areas in the Science of Self™ and will:

- Identify and understand your unique Driving Forces
- Understand and appreciate the Driving Forces of others
- Establish methods to recognize and understand how your Driving Forces interact with others to improve communication

General Characteristics

Based on your responses, the report has generated statements to provide a broad understanding of WHY YOU DO WHAT YOU DO. These statements identify the motivation that you bring to the job. However, you could have a potential Me-Me conflict when two driving forces seem to conflict with each other. Use the general characteristics to gain a better understanding of your driving forces.

Jon wants to control his own destiny and impact the destiny of others. He is driven by public recognition. He strives to achieve leadership roles. He is driven by a long list of wants and will work hard to achieve them. Jon is driven to maximize opportunities in order to create financial flexibility. Based on his enterprising nature, Jon is sensitive to wasting time, resources and/or opportunities. He will thrive in an environment filled with chaos. He can focus on the task at hand regardless of his surroundings. In many cases, Jon would prefer to set his own plan of action. He tends to interpret and dissect other systems and/or traditions and is creative when applying them. He can be patient and sensitive to others if they have a common cause. He may believe that discussing a problem can lead to a solution.

Jon is driven to acquire the very best that life has to offer. He has the desire to create a winning strategy. He has a strong desire to build resources for the future. He will focus on creating processes to ensure efficiency going forward. Jon will focus on the functionality over the appearance. He tends to see things in pieces. He tends to be an out-of-the-box thinker. He seeks new ways to accomplish routine tasks. Jon may attempt to assist an individual or group overcome adversity. Jon's intention to help others is determined on an individual basis. When Jon has a special interest he will be good at integrating past experience with new knowledge. He will seek knowledge based on his situational needs.

Primary Driving Forces Cluster

Your top driving forces create a cluster of drivers that move you to action. If you focus on the cluster rather than a single driver you can create combinations of factors that are very specific to you. The closer the scores are to each other the more you can pull from each driver. Think about the driver that you can relate to most and then see how your other primary drivers can support or complement to create your unique driving force.

1. Commanding - People who are driven by status, recognition and control over personal freedom.

2. Resourceful - People who are driven by practical results, maximizing both efficiency and returns for their investments of time, talent, energy and resources.

3. Objective - People who are driven by the functionality and objectivity of their surroundings.

4. Receptive - People who are driven by new ideas, methods and opportunities that fall outside a defined system for living.

Situational Driving Forces Cluster

Your middle driving forces create a cluster of drivers that come in to play on a situational basis. While not as significant as your primary drivers, they can influence your actions in certain scenarios.

5. Intentional - People who are driven to assist others for a specific purpose, not just for the sake of being helpful or supportive.

57

6. Instinctive - People who are driven by utilizing past experiences, intuition and seeking specific knowledge when necessary.

40

7. Intellectual - People who are driven by opportunities to learn, acquire knowledge and the discovery of truth.

38

8. Altruistic - People who are driven to assist others for the satisfaction of being helpful or supportive.

28

Indifferent Driving Forces Cluster

You may feel indifferent toward some or all of the drivers in this cluster. However, the remaining factors may cause an adverse reaction when interacting with people who have one or more of these as a primary driving force.

9. Structured - People who are driven by traditional approaches, proven methods and a defined system for living.

10. Harmonious - People who are driven by the experience, subjective viewpoints and balance in their surroundings.

6

11. Selfless - People who are driven by completing tasks for the sake of completion, with little expectation of personal return.

6

12. Collaborative - People who are driven by being in a supporting role and contributing with little need for individual recognition.

Areas for Awareness

For years you have heard statements like, "Different strokes for different folks," "to each his own," and "people do things for their own reasons, not yours." When you are surrounded by people who share similar driving forces, you will fit in with the group and be energized. However, when surrounded by people whose driving forces are significantly different from yours, you may be perceived as out of the mainstream. These differences can induce stress or conflict.

This section reveals areas where your driving forces may be outside the mainstream and could lead to conflict. The further above the mean and outside the mainstream you are, the more people will notice your passion about that driving force. The further below the mean and outside the mainstream you are, the more people will notice your avoidance or indifference regarding that driving force. The shaded area for each driving force represents 68 percent of the population or scores that fall within one standard deviation above or below the national mean.

Norms & Comparisons Table - Norm 2017

■ - 1st Standard Deviation - * 68% of the population falls within the shaded area. ■ - national mean ★ - your score
 ■ - 2nd Standard Deviation
 □ - 3rd Standard Deviation

Mainstream - one standard deviation of the national mean
Passionate - two standard deviations above the national mean
Indifferent - two standard deviations below the national mean
Extreme - three standard deviations from the national mean

Introduction Integrating Behaviors and Driving Forces Section

The ultimate power behind increasing job satisfaction and performance comes from the blending of your behaviors and driving forces. Each individually is powerful in order to modify your actions, but the synergy of blending the two moves you to a whole new level.

In this section you will find:

- Potential Behavioral and Motivational Strengths
- Potential Behavioral and Motivational Conflict
- Ideal Environment
- Keys to Motivating
- Keys to Managing

Potential Behavioral and Motivational Strengths

This section describes the potential areas of strengths between Jon's behavioral style and top four driving forces. Identify two to three potential strengths that need to be maximized and rewarded in order to enhance on-the-job satisfaction.

Potential Behavioral and Motivational Conflict

This section describes the potential areas of conflict between Jon's behavioral style and top four driving forces. Identify two to three potential conflicts that need to be minimized in order to enhance on-the-job performance.

- Takes on too much, too soon, too fast to maintain control.
- May not realize the negative consequences of his quick decisions.
- Has to be big player if not the leader and may miss out on beneficial role-playing opportunities.
- May make a quick decision that results in a bad investment and/or wasted time.
- May take high risk for high reward too often.
- Can be a workaholic.
- Enjoyment of working through chaos does not always translate to winning.
- May over focus on productivity over appearance.
- Will only see his objectives in the here and now.
- A desire for better results may be prohibited by his need for something new.
- Quick decisions may conflict with new opportunities.
- May break others' rules to keep the momentum moving.

Ideal Environment

People are more engaged and productive when their work environment matches the statements described in this section. This section identifies the ideal work environment based on Jon's behavioral style and top four driving forces. Use this section to identify specific duties and responsibilities that Jon enjoys.

- Management that appreciates and rewards powerful risk-taking.
- Opportunity to assertively express his desire to control his own destiny and potentially that of others.
- Continual opportunity to challenge and win.
- Having economic, competitive and challenging incentives.
- Key performance measured on results and efficiency rather than people and process.
- Rewards based-on challenging the status quo resulting in a return to the organization including personal gain.
- Objective, results-driven environment.
- Fast-paced chaotic activity based situations.
- The ability to compartmentalize when facing challenges and in achieving results.
- Opportunity to alter existing systems to make them bigger, better and faster.
- Forum to champion new ways in which to improve existing methods.
- Ability to achieve results by challenging the status quo.

Keys to Motivating

All people are different and motivated in various ways. This section of the report was produced by analyzing Jon's driving forces. Review each statement produced in this section with Jon and highlight those that are present "wants."

Jon wants:

- Power and control over outcomes and goals.
- Space and latitude to do what it takes to get the job done.
- To lead a team that understands the value of short-term and fast-moving ideas and results.
- Opportunities for achieving things faster and of more value.
- Focus on results and rewards, not the process or journey.
- Freedom to get desired results and improve efficiency.
- To focus on the functionality more than physical attributes as an indicator of success.
- The understanding from management that working and focusing on tangible results is the desired outcome.
- To be seen as someone who is passionate about results even within a chaotic environment.
- All systems and structures to be current and moving toward the desired result.
- Goals and results that stem from a creative and open approach.
- The ability to solve problems by examining many new approaches.

Keys to Managing

This section discusses the needs which must be met in order for Jon to perform at an optimum level. Some needs can be met by himself, while management must provide for others. It is difficult for a person to enter a motivational environment when that person's basic management needs have not been fulfilled. Review the list with Jon and identify 3 or 4 statements that are most important to him. This allows Jon to participate in forming his own personal management plan.

Jon needs:

- Help understanding the effect on his image when he disengages from uncontrolled projects.
- Freedom to determine how results should be achieved.
- Help in limiting interruptions because of the desire to be involved in too many projects.
- To understand that people who do not move at his pace may still offer value and a return on investment.
- To assess the risk and rewards of each decision.
- The opportunity to receive rewards based on results achieved.
- Challenges that utilize his objectivity and drive.
- To compartmentalize activities in order to accomplish the objectives.
- Assistance in understanding how his emotional intensity affects the performance of the team.
- A manager that understands his potentially explosive nature is from the desire to achieve and win in new and different ways.
- To understand that there is a time and a place for arguing his point of view.
- A manager that understands his need to explore many systems to capture all possibilities.

Introduction Acumen Indicators Section

Research has shown that the most effective people are those who understand themselves, both their strengths and weaknesses, so they can develop strategies to meet the demands of their environment.

The Acumen Indicators Section is designed to help an individual truly understand themselves, how they analyze and interpret their experiences. A person's acumen, keenness and depth of perception or discernment, is directly related to their level of performance. The stronger a person's acumen, the more aware they are of their reality in both their external and internal world.

This section explores both how a person interacts with the external world and from a personal perspective. There are seven primary areas that this section will explore:

- Summary of Acumen Capacity
- World View General Characteristics
- Self View General Characteristics
- Clarity of Performance and Situational Awareness
- Capacity for Problem Solving
- Reaction Index
- Business Performance Summary

Be sure to read the entire section with an open mind. Everyone has areas where they can improve. Use the content of this section while working with your mentor, professional coach or manager in order to make improvements, both personally and professionally.

Summary of Acumen Capacity

The Dimensions section measures Jon's capacity to understand each of the dimensions individually as well as the capacity to differentiate the value elements in situations.

The Individuality column relates to the development of your capacity to discern individuality in others and individuality in oneself. How well do you understand others? How well developed is your sense of self? (Feeling Column)

The Practical Situations column relates to the development of your capacity to discern the value in situations in the outside world and in one's own roles in life. How well do you understand all aspects of practical situations? How well do you understand your roles in life? (Doing Column)

The Systems and Order column relates to the development of your capacity to discern systems and order in the world and within oneself. How well do you understand structure and organization in the world? How well do you understand your self-organization and future direction? (Thinking Column)

The Distinction Index Column relates to your development of the capacity to differentiate values in general in the world as well as within oneself. (Judgment Column)

We will be exploring this information in more detail over the next two pages in the World View and Self View sections.

World View Self-View

World View

This is how Jon sees the world around him. This view measures his clarity and understanding of people, tasks and systems. It could also be looked at in terms of feeling, doing and thinking from an external standpoint. The statements below are based primarily on the 3 dimensions on the left side of the dimensional balance page and are in a random order.

- Jon tends to deal hands-on with things.
- Jon has an opportunity for growth by gaining a better understanding of current activities, roles and responsibilities.
- Jon works best in an atmosphere of dedicated co-workers who are going in the same direction or working toward the same goals.
- Jon understands people well and enjoys a feeling of mutual respect for others.
- Jon has a high understanding of people and can build and maintain relationships.
- Jon will use his understanding of people in order to influence them to his viewpoint.
- Jon sees things clearly from a systems perspective and this helps him understand the underlying systems in the world.
- Jon has thinking and planning ability when it comes to seeing the overall process.
- Jon has the ability to come up with new ideas.
- Jon has good thinking and planning ability, as well as good organizational skills.

Self View

This is how Jon sees himself. This view measures his clarity and understanding of himself, his roles in life and his direction for the future. The internal dimensions are a reflection of him from both personal and professional viewpoints. The statements below are based primarily on the 3 dimensions on the right side of the dimensional balance page and are in a random order.

- Jon should be positive and realistic about current expectations.
- Jon has little understanding about what he can achieve.
- Jon would benefit from listing his roles and asking himself if any of these roles are currently in transition?
- Jon tends to appreciate himself for who he is.
- Jon focuses on who he is as an individual.
- Jon tends to rely on himself in the face of adversity.
- Jon may focus on gaining information to clearly envision himself in the future.
- Jon has a grasp of his potential accomplishments.
- Jon tends to have a strong personal drive and devotion to living up to who and what he thinks he ought to be.

Clarity of Performance and Situational Awareness

Clarity of Performance and Situational Awareness score both internally and externally. The Clarity of Performance measures a person's ability to see the relevant in situations, their capacity for focusing on, understanding and valuing the dimensions evenly in the outside world and within oneself. The Situational Awareness score is the measurement of Jon's awareness of the reality of the outside world and within his own world.

External Clarity of Performance: Development of a sense of proportion in evaluating personal, practical and theoretical situations in the outside world.

- In terms of people, tasks and systems, Jon has the least clarity when it comes to tasks.
- When confronted with a situation, Jon may overlook the tasks and details involved focusing more on the people or processes and policies.
- Jon should do his best to remain objective in dealing with situations and issues of all kinds.

External Situational Awareness: Development of the awareness of the reality of the world.

- Jon demonstrates moderate objectivity in his approach to situations.
- Jon at times may have an unrealistic view of the situation.
- Jon could strive to be more rational in his approach to issues in his work environment.

* 68% of the population falls within the shaded area.

Clarity of Performance and Situational Awareness Continued

Internal Clarity of Performance: Development of a sense of proportion in evaluating personal, practical and theoretical situations in oneself.

- He lacks objectivity on some personal issues.
- He lacks a balanced view when looking at his internal world, and could benefit from a clearer understanding of both his personal and professional roles.
- For Jon, understanding his life's roles is secondary to who he is as a person and his envisioned future, which contributes to his unbalanced view of personal issues.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Internal Situational Awareness: Development of the awareness of the reality of one's own self.

- Jon has moderate awareness in terms of himself, his role and his future.
- Jon has moderate understanding of his reality as it pertains to himself.
- Jon is generally rational about his strengths and weaknesses.

Summary of Capacity for Problem Solving

The Individual Situations column relates to the development of your capacity to discern the importance within situations concerning the individuality of others and concerning one's own individuality.

The Complex Situations column relates to the development of your capacity to discern the importance within practical situations and in situations concerning one's own roles in life.

The Theoretical Situations column relates to the development of your capacity to discern the importance within systems and in situations requiring self-discipline.

The Problems and Decisions column relates to the development of your capacity to discern the importance within situations in the world and in oneself.

The Reaction Index column relates to the development of your capacity for organizing one's reactions when confronted with situations in the world and within oneself.

Reaction Index

The Reaction Index is determined by looking at Jon's External Control and Internal Control. The combination of this information will identify one's capacity for appropriate response in difficult situations. Levels of development will be indicated by Well Developed, Developed or Needs Development.

External Control: The ability to appear to be rational and in control when facing problems or crises.

- He shows some discipline and organization when reacting to conflict, primarily dealing with problems involving practical situations.
- His capacity to organize and discipline his reactions when confronted with outside problems is developed.
- He shows some discipline and organization when reacting to conflict, primarily dealing with problems involving systems and theories.
- He shows some discipline and organization when reacting to conflict, primarily dealing with problems involving other people.

Internal Control: The ability to remain in conscious command of one's internal self when confronted with difficult circumstances and to respond rationally.

- He shows lack of discipline and organization when reacting to conflict, primarily dealing with problems involving his roles in life.
- His capacity to organize and discipline his reactions when confronted with problems within himself needs development.
- He shows lack of discipline and organization when reacting to conflict, primarily dealing with problems involving self-discipline.
- He shows lack of discipline and organization when reacting to conflict, primarily dealing with problems involving his own individuality.

Introduction Competencies Section

Your success in any job depends on the value of your contribution to the organization. Managers, mentors and professional coaches can encourage, advise and guide you as you grow professionally. However, the ultimate responsibility for your career development is yours and yours alone.

This report is designed to assist you in managing and developing your career. For many jobs, personal skills are as important as technical skills in producing superior performance. Personal skills are often transferable to different jobs, whereas technical skills are usually more specific.

While personal skills are certainly important for career development, it is not necessary to fully develop every one. In fact, development of a personal skill may not benefit your career if it isn't required in your current job. In order to optimize your career potential, it is best to focus your development efforts on the personal skills that are required in your current job, or the job you want.

Be sure to read the entire report with an open mind. Everyone has areas where they can improve. Before deciding to work on developing personal skills you have not yet fully developed, you may want to discuss the report with a trusted peer, mentor or professional coach. You may even wish to share the report with your manager. In most cases, management takes a very positive view of individuals who wish to develop their skills.

Development Indicator

This section of your report shows your development level of 25 personal skills based on your responses to the questionnaire.

Competencies Hierarchy

Your unique hierarchy of competencies is key to your success. Knowing what they are is essential to reaching your goals. The graphs below rank your competencies from top to bottom.
